SERIOUS LABOR RIOTS.

They Take Place at Berea and Cleveland, O.

MANY OF THE STRIKERS WOUNDED.

At Berea Over 100 Shots Were Fired and the Sheriff Is Compelled to Call Upon Governor Bushnell for the Militia—At Cleveland About 100 Men Were Injured by the Clubs of the Policemen and Four Arrested.

WEST VIEW, O., July 2.—Over 100 shots were exchanged by deputy sheriffs and strikers Wednesday morning at the Berea stone quarries. No one was killed so far as known. One striker had his leg broken in two places and many have sore heads as the result of a hand to hand conflict. The strikers approached the quarries through a woods with the avowed intention of driving out the non-union men at work. They were met by the sheriff and forty deputies who commanded them to stop. For an answer the strikers began firing and the fight then became general. For a few moments the strikers were repulsed and fell back to the woods.

The men in the quarries are quitting for fear and by the importunities of their wives. It is believed that the strikers will make another dash for the quarries, and if such should prove to be the case serious trouble will follow. Sheriff Leek in the afternoon telegraphed Governor Bushnell at Columbus that he was unable to hold in check the striking stone quarriers at Berea and asked that four companies of militia be ordered to his assistance at once.

Women Take a Hand. While the strikers at West View took the quarry by storm and drove out the workmen with clubs and strong language. The sheriff was at West View with all but a handful of his deputies and in consequence the women had full sway. When the news reached them that some of the strikers had been injured at West View the women were beside themselves with rage, and were only kept in check by the large number of citizens that witnessed the battle. They were summoned from the village. The strikers are rapidly returning from West View and have been calling in their pickets for the purpose of arming them. Sheriff Leek finds that he cannot cope with them, and they scatter and slip across lots at such a lively rate that he cannot keep all points guarded with his men. The strikers would not allow any one inside of their line after the fight, so it was not possible to learn how many of their number had been injured. None of the sheriff's party were hurt.

LABOR RIOT AT CLEVELAND.

One Hundred People Suffer Wounds Inflicted by Policemen.

CLEVELAND, O., July 2.—A pitched battle occurred Tuesday between eighty policemen and a body of strikers from the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Machine company. As a result four of the strikers are in jail and 100 others are suffering with wounds inflicted by the clubs of the policemen. The trouble started at 3 a. m. when the non-union employees of the company were dismissed for the day. During the last few days the authorities have been expecting trouble, and they were prepared. The 171 men employees marched to the street cars within a hollow square of policemen. The strikers persuaded the street car employees not to stop for the new men, and the employees with their escort marched to another street corner. There a stone was thrown by some one in the crowd of 2,000 strikers, sympathizers and spectators.

The police, who were under the command of Superintendent McMahon, were ordered to charge. They made eight salutes on the crowd. One of the patrolmen named Kadel, was struck on the head with a stone, and so badly disabled that he is now lying at a hospital. When the police saw that one of their number had been injured they started in to kill. One of the strike leaders, James Welch, was knocked unconscious, and a policeman was in the act of striking him again when an officer stopped him by throwing himself prostrate over the wounded man. At least twenty strikers were knocked down by the police, and many broken heads resulted from the charge. The strikers and their sympathizers and all others in the mob were glad enough at last to escape the police, as the officers made no distinction between the real offenders and the spectators, having been instructed to frighten the crowd. When the last charge was made a number of men were left lying in the street, and many more were wiping blood from their faces. The four men arrested are believed to be the ones who instigated the trouble.

These gave keen delight to her gifted father, and it was under his strong and masterful hand that her character and talents were carefully and judiciously developed. THE GOLD DEMOCRATS

They Are Preparing for a Fight at Chicago.

TACTICS OF SILVER MEN EXPOSED.

An Address Being Prepared Showing the Methods by Which They Captured the Local Organization—Don M. Dickinson Says There Will Be No Contest in Michigan's Delegation, but Spencer O. Fisher Says Different—Teller's Reception.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The gold Democrats are beginning to make themselves conspicuous about the rotunda of the Palmer House. Regular headquarters will probably be secured by Thursday, and a nucleus will be formed about which the eastern men may gather. The executive committee of the new central committee is now organized and ready for business. At a meeting held at the Palmer House Tuesday afternoon the chairman, Frank Peabody, was authorized to appoint a committee of five to care for the finances of the organization and raise money for the campaign. A committee of three, consisting of Ed. Assay, John P. Hopkins and Daniel Smith, was appointed to secure permanent headquarters.

To Secure Tickets.

Another committee was appointed, the purpose of which is the securing of tickets to the national convention. Sergeant-at-Arms Martin has, it is said, been dispensing his favors in the way of tickets and appointments with special favor to the local silver organization. The members of the gold organization intend to be present at the convention, and they intend to call on Colonel Martin for a batch of tickets. This day was delegated to E. S. Peabody, H. S. Robbins, Thomas A. Moran, G. E. Guich, John F. Clair, and W. W. Johnson. An address is being prepared setting forth for the benefit of visitors on the methods by which the silver men captured the local organization. The state committee of gold Democrats has secured headquarters at the Auditorium and at the Palmer house, and they will be opened Thursday.

Arrival of Chairman Harritt.

The arrival of Chairman Harritt and the congregation of the national committee members revived the talk of the gold Democrats hitting the nomination of silver candidate and the adoption of a 16 to 1 plan. Silver men greatly enjoyed the silver men. Mention was made at the Sherman House rendezvous of the white metal men and there will be a commotion in a jiffy. Being beaten in a fair fight, they say, the gold men should line up. An Indiana silver dealer, who refused to permit the use of his name in connection with the silver cause, declared Wednesday that he positively knew that the gold members of the national committee were planning to hold a separate convention and nominate Cleveland if the Chicago convention is delivered into the hands of the silver men. The story goes on to say that Hugh Wallace, the Washington committee man, is trying to organize a flank movement of this sort.

MICHIGAN DELEGATION.

Dickinson Says There'll Be No Contest and Fisher Says There Will.

DETROIT, July 2.—Don M. Dickinson, in an authorized interview printed here Tuesday afternoon, states that there will be no contest at Chicago over the Michigan delegation, and bases his claim upon the fact that no notice of such contest has yet been filed with the national committee, which, he says, will settle all contests. He said that they had no grounds to base their contest on, as their leader, Spencer O. Fisher, had moved to make the nomination of the delegates at large unanimous, and if the contest were successful it would simply result in seating the alternative, who were none persons named "sound money" men than even the original delegates.

To this expression Spencer O. Fisher and the other silver leaders, including Judge McIntire and Fred A. Baker, take serious objection. Fisher says, "Michigan's delegation to Chicago will vote the unit rule, as instructed by the state convention, but they will be a unit for silver, not gold. We will contest the election of three delegates and also the delegates in several counties."

TICKETS SOLD TWICE.

How the Alton Railway Company Was Robbed.

SEVERAL MEN WERE IN THE PLOT.

One Conductor Would Take Up Tickets, Fail to Punch Them, and Turn Them Over to Another Conductor Who Would Take Them to the Station from Which They Were Sold—The Agent Would Then Sell Them Again.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Officials of the Chicago and Alton railroad have just discovered that a gang of employees, among whom are passenger train conductors and station agents, working with Pullman car porters, have robbed the railway company of $10,000. Sufficient investigation into the gigantic steal has been made to show a conspiracy, and thus far three conductors and two station agents have lost their positions. Others may be discharged when the full extent of the conspiracy is discovered. The company is making all plans for the criminal prosecution of the offenders. The steal was accomplished through co-operation of a station agent with passenger conductors on railroad tickets from Springfield, Ill., to Chicago. On an average, so far as can be estimated by Auditor Kelsey's reports, $40 a day was stolen, and the larceny was a progress fully a year—probably a little longer.

Scheme Is a New One.

The scheme originated and executed by the rogues is an entirely new and startling one, as may be judged from the fact that it worked for one week before it was exposed only by the merest accident, the company's officials not knowing that the road was being deprived of about one-half of its revenue from the Springfield-Chicago through business. In a nutshell the scheme of robbery was for the conductor of the train which leaves Springfield for Chicago at noon to take up but not punch the tickets sold at the Springfield office on the noon train. The meeting point of this train with the St. Louis train, which leaves Chicago about 3 o'clock in the morning, is about half way between Chicago and Springfield. The conductor of the Springfield train for Chicago would see the conductor of the St. Louis train at the meeting point and give him the bunch of tickets he had taken up from passengers to Chicago.

Station Agent's Part.

The conductor of the St. Louis train arriving in Springfield at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, it is said, would hand over the bunch of tickets to the ticket seller in the Springfield office, and he would sell them again to passengers for Chicago on the evening or night train. The tickets, although used twice, were good, for the reason the stamp of the one-day limit was good. The railroad company got only the money for the tickets when they were first taken from the ticket rack, as the ticket seller at Springfield sold them again in preference to tickets from the rack. The conspiracy was completed when the ticket seller and the passenger train conductor came to an understanding as to the handling and sale of the tickets. At first the railway officials believed there were but three conductors in the game, but subsequent developments make it almost sure there were at least five and probably six conductors conversant with the scheme.

Discovery of the Theft.

The discovery of the steal was purely accidental. A few days before the meeting of the Republican national convention at St. Louis a mysterious package of railroad tickets was found on the tracks of the road at Atlanta, Ill. The finder carried them into the depot, and turned them over to a young woman who has charge of the Atlanta office. As the tickets were stamped and apparently good, the young woman started telegraphic inquiry with the Springfield office concerning their ownership. The guilty Springfield agent heard the inquiry made, and at once called up the station agent at Williamsburg, the first station on the Alton north of Springfield, and persuaded him to go to Atlanta, and get possession of the tickets and hand up all inquiry concerning them. All of this peculiar business over the wire was heard in different quarters, and the result was an official investigation. It was then learned that something was wrong with the Springfield office concerning the tickets, and a searching investigation was made.

Routine of the Work.

It was soon discovered that the tickets were found in a St. Louis morning paper neatly folded up, so they could not drop out accidentally. Then it was found that the two trains met at Atlanta (not the usual meeting place) on the day the tickets were found and that the conductor of the north-bound train handed the conductor of the south-bound train a newspaper as the south-bound train went by with the right of way, running about twelve miles an hour. The conductor of the south-bound train failed to catch the paper with its precious burden and when it fell it was too late to go back and pick it up. Vice President Chappell of the Alton said: "We know the stealing has been going on all of one year. One auditor has checked up the Springfield office thoroughly and we think the average may not have been as high as $40 a day. But it was enough. We have discharged two station agents and three conductors. The name of the guilty agent at Springfield is George Connel, but I am not at liberty to give the names of the conductors, as we have not yet concluded the investigation."

Another Cave-in at Pittston.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 2.—Another cave-in took place in the Twin shaft at Pittston shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. The rescuers were in a spot near where the original fall took place when the crash came. The cave is said to be an immense one, composed mostly of rock. The rescuers have been driven back nearly two hundred feet and the outlook towards reaching the entombed men is very discouraging. The roof continues to show signs of cracking and more falls are looked for during the day.
